An examination of this application reveals that applicant is unfamiliar with patent prosecution procedure. While an inventor may prosecute the application, lack of skill in this field usually acts as a liability in affording the maximum protection for the invention disclosed. Applicant is advised to secure the services of a registered patent attorney or agent to prosecute the application, since the value of a patent is largely dependent upon skilled preparation and prosecution. The Office cannot aid in selecting an attorney or agent.

A listing of registered patent attorneys and agents is available on the USPTO Internet web site <http://www.uspto.gov> in the Site Index under "Attorney and Agent Roster." Applicants may also obtain a list of registered patent attorneys and agents located in their area by writing to the Mail Stop OED, Director of the U. S. Patent and Trademark Office, PO Box 1450, Alexandria, VA 22313-1450.

The specification and drawings are objected to. Since the Petition Decision of 3/31/03 states that Figures 1-3 do not exist the specification and drawings should be revised to reflect this. All reference characters recited in the specification that pertain to these drawing figures are improper and are required to be deleted. The Brief Description of the Drawings must be revised to reflect that only Figures 4-6 exist and these figures must be renumbered consecutively, 1, 2, and 3 in both the description and the drawings.

Claim 1 is rejected as failing to define the invention in the manner required by 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph.

The claim(s) are narrative in form and replete with indefinite and functional or operational language. The structure which goes to make up the device must be clearly and positively specified. The structure must be organized and correlated in such a manner as to present a complete operative device. The claim(s) must be in one sentence form only. Note the format of the claims in the patent(s) cited.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. The disclosure is based, in part, on the supposed existence of Figures 1-3. These drawing figures do not exist based on the Petition Decision of 3/31/04 wherein applicant's petition was Dismissed. Since these figures do not exist the disclosure is inadequate for enabling a proper understanding of the device. Further, it has not been specifically recited where a workpiece is to be engaged by the stand of 6.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Christensen in view of Merrin et al.

Christensen at Figure 10 shows a stand having an adjustable bracket 2,10 mounted to a rod or pipe 1. The rod or pipe 1 is mounted to a socket on a base member; eg. See Figure 8 or 9. It is unclear from the Christensen disclosure how the rod or pipe is retained in the socket of the base member.

Merrin et al teaches that a pipe or rod 20 may be retained in the socket of a base member 30 by means of a threaded socket to mate with the an external thread on the end of the pipe or rod 20.

To provide a threading on the socket of the base and on the pipe or rod in Christensen would have been obvious for one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made in view of the disclosure of Merrin et al. One of ordinary skill in the art would have been motivated to do this in order to provide a secure connection between the rod or pipe and the base. Whether or not the individual components of the stand are from a disassembled bar clamp have no patentable significance insofar as the completed assembled stand is concerned.
